Guarding Against Obstacles to Voting on Election Day

Volunteering at the polls on Election Day is a great way to help strengthen and safeguard the rights and liberties at the core of our democracy. You also empower others in your community by ensuring that their right to vote is protected. Review this sheet before you go to the polls on Election Day to be aware of problems you may encounter. These are just examples, and you should use the resources listed at the bottom of this page if you see anything of concern.

Warning Signs of Voting Obstacles
► Excessively long wait to vote: Voters have reported waiting in line for as long as three hours before they could vote.
► Equipment malfunctions: Poll workers have encountered machines that fail to tally, record, or retrieve voter data.
► Delayed opening of the polls: Polls have failed to open on time due to late arrival of ballots or personnel.
► Polling places that are inaccessible to people with disabilities
► Voters leaving without voting: Long lines, insufficient ballots, machine malfunctions have all resulted in voters leaving the polls without having had the chance to vote.

Resources to Help Address Obstacles:
► To find out whether formerly incarcerated people can vote in your state, contact the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).
